

Occupational health and safety, security and environment: integrative part of company philosophy

The idea of taking precautions for man, company and the environment is well grounded in the company philosophy of HÜBNER GmbH, Kassel. For the realization of these precautions, HÜBNER GmbH has stipulated mandatory guidelines for the fields of occupational health and safety, security and pollution control and anchored them in its company policy:

Legal security

We do observe all legal regulations for occupational health and safety, safety and pollution control which are valid for our company site. We expect the same of our contractual partners who are working on our premises.

Precautions

We assess our production support, product developments and services on a regular basis regarding their impact on the environment and safety. Furthermore, we initiate preventive measures in order to minimize effects on the environment, health risks as well as to avoid safety-related hazards.

Continuous improvement

We monitor our activities on a regular basis regarding the achieved goals and initiate appropriate improvements and corrections. For that, we use only the best technologies and materials available within the limits of profitability.

Information & communication

It is our custom to cultivate a cooperative dialogue with our respective authorities and the public and to advise our customers on all safety and environmental aspects of our products and services. We promote the sense of responsibility in all of our staff regarding occupational health and safety, safety and pollution control in their respective work environment.
