

Molded rubber parts

We give your ideas shape. We design and manufacture molded rubber products with weights from 10 g up to 5 kg for almost all applications. We specialize in high-grade quality products which we develop ourselves to meet even special customer requirements.

We manufacture oil, heat and UV resistant rubber products in almost any shape and color - from single unit to series production. Our products conform to international fire protection norms and all further safety requirements.

Silicone shaped parts

Silicone is the basis for products with demanding properties and manifold applications. Thanks to their excellent functions, e.g., high flexibility, waterproof effects, heat and cold resistance, electrical isolation, high-grade disconnection properties and high environmental compatibility, they are applicable in many fields of medical technology. We manufacture, e.g., membranes or surge tanks for dialysis machines in different sizes and colors from silicone.
